

Light revolvers - concealable, and typical of countless varieties by many manufacturers

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
small revolver	32 S&W	15	3	1d8	6	swing out	00	1.3	$15	1900s
: weak handguns (in the US: Colt, Iver Johnson, H&R, S&W, Iver Johnson etc.) in calibers from .32 to .38 (or 7.62mm to 9mm in Europe)
Colt Detective Special	38 Special	10	2	1d10	6	swing out	00	1.5	$29	1926
: "snub nosed" version of the Police Positive, often carried by plainclothes detectives in America
S&W Model K Snubnose	38 Special	10	2	1d10	6	swing out	00	1.5	$33	1920s
: "snub nosed" version of the Military & Police model, with 2" barrel

Heavy revolvers

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Colt "Frontier"	45 Long Colt	15	1	1d10+2	6	side gate	00	2.4	$34	1872
: the iconic 'cowboy' revolver; also in 44-40, 44 Colt, .44 Special, and many lesser calibers; used by the U.S. Army to 1890
Colt New Service	45 Long Colt	15	1	1d10+2	6	swing out	00	2.3	$34	1898
: current heavy Colt revolver, in various calibers (e.g., .44 Special, .44-40, .455, etc). The M1917 uses .45 ACP ammo in "moon clips"
Colt Police Positive	38 Special	15	2	1d10	6	swing out	00	1.6	$29	1907
: a very common American police weapon
Enfield No. 1	38 British Service	15	2	1d8	6	break front	00	1.7	$22	1927
: gradually replacing older Webley revolvers in the British Army
Modele 1892	8mm Lebel Revolver	15	3	1d8	6	swing out	00	1.8	$15	1892
: French military revolver
Nagant M1895	7.65mm Nagant	15	3	1d8	7	side gate	00	1.7	$15	1895
: Russian military revolver
S&W 38/44 Heavy Duty	.38/44 Special	20	1	1d8+1d3	6	swing out	00	2.5	$38	1933
: a new, heavy-framed revolver.
S&W Hand Ejector 1926 Model	.44 Special	15	1	1d10+2	6	swing out	00	2.4	$30	1926
: the current "big" revolver in the S&W line
S&W Military & Police	.38 Special	15	2	1d10	6	swing out	00	2.2	$33	1897
: the "Model K", a very common American police weapon
S&W Model 1917	45 ACP	15	1	1d10+2	6	swing out	00	2.4	$38	1917
: used by the US military in the Great War. The similar "Military Model" is chambered for 44 Special cartridges
Webley Bull Dog	44 Bull Dog	10	1	1d10+2	5	side gate	00	1.8	$15	1873
: a common cheap gun; dodgy foreign copies can be had for £2
Webley Mark VI	455 British Service	15	1	1d10+2	6	break open	00	2.4	$25	1915
: the current British military revolver
Webley RIC	44 Webley	15	1	1d10+2	6	side gate	00	2.0	$20	1867
: when British policemen carry pistols, this would likely be the issued weapon

Semi-automatic pistols

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Astra Model 903	7.63mm Mauser	20	2/10	1d10	10,20	magazine	98	2.0	$50	1928
: a select-fire pistol, popular with Chinese armies and Spanish police; also available in 9mm Para; loaded 20 rd mags weigh 0.4 lb.
Colt M1911	45 ACP	20	1	1d10+2	7	magazine	00	3.0	$37	1911
: standard sidearm of the US military. "National Match" version is $40.75, but no different for combat purposes. Magazines, $1.25
Colt Model 1908	380 ACP	15	2	1d8	7	magazine	99	1.5	$21	1908
: the "Pocket Hammerless" model. The similar Model 1903 uses .32 ACP ammunition, has an 8 rd. magazine, costs the same
Colt Super Auto	38 Colt Super Auto	20	1	1d8+1d3	7	magazine	00	3.0	$37	1929
: the most powerful pistol in production currently. "National Match" version is $40.75.
FN Browning Baby	25 ACP	10	3	1d6	6	magazine	00	0.9	$20	1906
: the most efficient of various small, concealable automatic pistols; dozens of copies are usually Malf=99 in 6.35mm Auto

MAS 1935A	7.65mm Longue	15	2	1d8	8	magazine	98	1.6	?	1935
: standard sidearm of the French Army from 1935
Mauser C/96	7.63mm Mauser	20	2	1d10	6-10	internal	99	2.9	$40	1896
: Spanish copies (Malf=96) are popular in Asia since 1928; can be loaded using stripper clips
Mauser M712	7.63mm Mauser	20	2/10	1d10	10,20	magazine	98	2.0	$60	1932
: after Astra, Azul and Beistegui made full-auto versions of the C/96, Mauser came out with this; loaded 20 rd mags weigh 0.4 lb.
Nambu Type 14	8mm Nambu	15	2	1d8	8	magazine	98	2.0	?	1925
: standard sidearm for Japanese military and police. Magazines are difficult to withdraw.
Parabellum P-08 "Luger"	9mm Para	20	2	1d10	8	magazine	99	2.0	$30	1908
: standard sidearm of the German military; loaded magazines weight 0.4 lb; 32 rd "snail" magazines weigh 2.3 lbs, Malf=98
pocket automatic	various	15	2	1d8	7	magazine	99	2.0	$16	ca1900
: millions of similar pistols are made by Colt, FN-Browning, and various French and Spanish companies (Colt Automatic, Colt Pocket Automatic, FN Browning Baby, FN Browning 1900, FN Browning 1910/22, Glisenti Modelo 1910) in 38 ACP, 9mm Browning Short, 32 Automatic Colt, 9mm Browning Long, 9mm Glisenti, etc. These are very typical of police and military pistols in Europe and Latin America.
Radom wz/35	9mm Para	20	2	1d10	8	magazine	00	2.3	?	1935
: standard sidearm of the Polish military, adopted in 1935
Smith & Wesson Automatic	32 ACP	15	2	1d8	7	magazine	99	1.6	$35	1920s
: small hammerless pocket automatic
Tokarev TT-33	7.63 Mauser	15	2	1d10	8	magazine	00	2.0	~~	1933
: newly-introduced sidearm of Soviet military and secret police (modified from the very similar TT-30)
Walther PP	9mm Browning Short	15	2	1d8	7	magazine	00	1.8	$38	1930
: double-action pocket pistol used by German police detectives; the smaller PPK has only a 6 rd. magazine
Webley & Scott Automatic	.32 Webley Auto	15	3	1d8	8	magazine	98	1.1	$12	~1905
: used by London Metropolitan police, various Imperial police forces. Smaller pocket versions in .25 and other weak calibers.
Webley & Scott Automatic	.455 Webley Auto	20	1	1d10+1	7	magazine	99	2.3	$32	1913
: the "Naval and Military" model, in limited use by the Royal Navy. Commercial versions available in 38 ACP and 9mm Browning Long

Multibarrel pistols - very concealable

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Remington Derringer	.41 Short RF	5	2	1d10+1	2	break open	00	0.9	$12	1866
: the classic and popular 'double derringer', with over-under barrels; hammer must be cocked for each shot; very concealable

Lever-action rifles

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Marlin 1895 Model	45-90 Winchester	90	1	1d8+1d6+3	4	internal	98	7	$20	1895
: also available in 40-65 Winchester
Savage Model 99	300 Savage	80	1	2d6+4	5	internal	98	7	$49	1920
: rotary magazine
Winchester Model 73	44-40 Winchester	60	1	1d10+2	15	internal	96	9	$30	1873
: the famous cowboy rifle; a carbine version weighs 7 lbs, has a 50 yd range, and only holds 10 cartridges. Not in current production.
Winchester Model 76	45-70 Government	100	1	2d6+2	10	internal	99	9?	?	1876
: the first lever-action rifle capable of using full-power cartridges. Issued to the Mounties for many years. Not in current production.
Winchester Model 94	30-30 Winchester	60	1	2d6	6	internal	98	7	$40	1894
: first successful commercial rifle to use smokeless powder; also available in takedown version
Winchester Model 95	45-75 Winchester	90	1	1d10+2	4	internal	98	8	$60	1895
: hunting rifle available in various calibers
Winchester Model 64	30-30 Winchester	90	1	1d10+2	6	internal	99	7	$45	1933
: improved version of the Model 94

Bolt-action sporting magazine rifles

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Mannlicher	8mm Mannlicher	80	1/2	2d6+1	4	clip	99	8	$100	1888
: Austrian hunting weapon, also available in various other calibers; loaded with a 4 round en bloc clip
Mauser	10.75x57mm	100	1/2	1d8+1d6+4	3	internal	00	9	$100	1890s
: typical heavy game rifle for Germans on safari; various other calibers available, such as 9.3x57mm Mauser ...
express sport rifle	416 Rigby	100	1/2	3d6+3	3	internal	00	12	$200+	ca1910
: other calibers: 404 Rimless Nitro Express, 375 Magnum Nitro Express, 375 H&H Magnum. Griffin & Howe is only American maker
sport rifle	30-06, 270 Winchester	110	1/2	2d6+4	5	internal	00	9	$50-$200	1925
: "heavy" American rifles (e.g. Winchester Model 54 (1925); Savage Model 40 (1928), Griffin & Howe); carbines have a range of 90 yds

Game rifles - these are all smokeless ("nitro") double rifles. Famous makers include Wm. & John Rigby, Westley-Richards, Holland & Holland, James Purdey & Sons, W. J. Jeffrey, W. W. Greener, Evans, George Gibbs, H. Krieghoff (the only non-Briton on this list). Choose a size, choose a name, choose a caliber ...

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
heavy double	500 Nitro Express	70	2	3d6+4	2	break open	00	18	$500+	1890s
: also available as 577 Express, 577 Nitro Express, 500 Express, 500 Magnum Express, 500 Magnum Nitro Express, 450 Magnum Express ... express double	400 Nitro Express	80	2	3d6+3	2	break open	00	13	$350+	ca1900
: also available as 400 Magnum Express, 400 Nitro, 450/400 Express, 10.25x69mmR Express ... double rifle	360 Nitro Express	100	2	3d6+2	2	break open	00	9	$150+	1884
: not really a 'big' game rifle; also as the 350 Nitro Express, 9x70mmR Mauser, etc.
heavy cape gun	10 ga. + .500 NE	70	2	3d6+4	2	break open	00	13	$250	1880s
: appear similar to double rifles, but one barrel is smooth-bore (see rules for shotgun damage)
cape gun	12 ga. + .400 NE	80	2	3d6+3	2	break open	00	11	$125	1880s
: a lighter cape gun (see rules for shotgun damage)

Shotguns

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Browning Auto-5	12 ga.	10/20/50	1	4d6/2d6/1d6	5	internal	00	8	$50	1905
: the first and one of the best semi-automatic shotguns. Also produced as the Remington Model 11
generic double	10 ga.	10/20/50	2	4d6+2/2d6+1/1d6	2	break open	00	10	$25	1870s
: representing a multitude of makers and variations
generic double	12 ga.	10/20/50	2	4d6/2d6/1d6	2	break open	00	9	$20-$40	1870s
: representing a multitude of makers and variations (inc. over-and-under and side-by-side models); obviously many are more expensive generic pump shotgun	12 ga.	10/20/50	1	4d6/2d6/1d6	5	internal	99	7	$30	ca1900
: typical of products by Winchester, Savage, Remington, Ithaca, etc.
generic sawed-off double	12 ga.	5/10	2	4d6/1d6	2	break open	00	9	$20	1870s
: side-by-side barrels of 14" to 20"
Manville rotary gun	12 ga.	10/20/50	2	4d6/2d6/1d6	24	rotary mag	96	15	$537	1935
: spring-driven, awkward, very slow to reload, 11" barrel, very rare outside of US prisons; 18 rd version for 1" flares in 1936
Winchester Model 1887	12 ga. blackpowder	10/20/50	1	4d6/2d6/1d6	5	internal	99	9	$40	1887
: lever action
Winchester Model 1897	12 ga.	10/20/50	2	4d6/2d6/1d6	5	internal	00	7	$30	1897
: no disconnecter on the trigger; takedown models are available

Bolt action military rifles - a clip is normally used to fill the internal magazine of these weapons

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Arisaka Type 38	6.5mm Taisho	110	1/2	2d8	10	internal	00	9.5	?	1905
: standard Japanese military rifle. A couple of carbine versions for artillery and cavalry troops
Lee-Enfield Mark III	303 British	80	1/2	2d6+4	10	magazine	00	9	$50	1895
: standard British military rifle; extra magazines are not issued, but weigh 1 lb loaded
Mannlicher M1895	8mm Mannlicher	80	1/2	2d6+3	5	internal	00	8	$75	1895
: Austrian army rifle; uses a 5 round en bloc clip
Mannlicher-Carcano M1891	6.5mm Carcano	80	1/2	2d6+3	6	internal	00	8	$50	1891
: Italian army rifle
Mauser "Export"	7mm Mauser	90	1/2	2d6+3	5	internal	00	10	$60	1893
: typical of exported military Mauser rifles used by many smaller armies; many other similar calibers are available
Mauser Gewehr 98	7.92mm Mauser	110	1/2	2d6+4	5	internal	00	9	$75	1898
: the classic bolt-action military rifle of the 20th Century
Moisin-Nagant M1891	7.62mm Russian	100	1/2	2d6+4	5	internal	00	9	$50	1891
: standard rifle of the Soviet military. Various carbine versions also exist
Springfield M1903	30-06	110	1/2	2d6+4	5	internal	00	9	$60	1906
: the standard US military rifle

Submachineguns

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Beretta 1918/30	9mm Para	20	burst	1d10	25	magazine	96	7	$200	1930
: in service with Italian police agencies, and also sold to South American countries. Reputation as unreliable.
Erma MP38	9mm Para	20	burst	1d10	32	magazine	98	9.1	?	1938
: adopted in 1938 for German panzer crews, and rapidly thereafter to the rest of their military
Erma MPE	9mm Para	20	burst	1d10	32	magazine	98	9.1	~$180	1930
: sold commercially, mostly in Latin America and Asia; also purchased by the German Army after 1933.
MP 28/II	9mm Para	30	burst	1d10	32	magazine	98	9	$200	1928
: German weapon also sold to European, Latin American and Asian armies; a 50 round "snail" magazine is available
Soumi M31	9mm Para	20	burst	1d10	71	magazine	00	16	$300	1931
: Finland's standard SMG, and the standard by which to measure submachineguns in 1933; the 71 rd drum is robust and reliable
Steyr-Solothurn SI-100	9mm Para	20	burst	1d10	32	magazine	98	8.5	~$400	1931
: of Swiss/German/Austrian origin, used by Austria, Hungary, and various Latin American and Asian countries. Other calibers available
Thompson M1928	45 ACP	20	burst	1d10+2	30	magazine	96	6	$200	1921
: used by the US Marines, Coast Guard, Postal Service ... and gangsters. Drum magazines are of 50 and 100 rd capacity.

Semi-automatic rifles and light machine guns

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	malf	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Breda M30	6.5mm Carcano	110	burst	2d6+3	20	magazine	96	22.5	?	1930
: standard Italian weapon, difficult to operate and maintain.
Colt R80 Monitor	30-06	70	1 or burst	2d6+4	20	magazine	00	17	$250	1931
: shortened, lightened, compensated version of the BAR, only 125 built (mostly for the FBI and bank guards)
Degtyarev DP	7.62x54mmR	80	burst	2d6+4	60	magazine	99	26	$100?	1928
: standard squad automatic weapon of the Soviet military
Lewis	303 British or 30-06	80	burst	2d6+4	47	magazine	99	31	$250	1914
: used by the British and American military, and other countries; popular during the Great War as an aircraft weapon (only 19 lbs)
M1918 BAR	30-06	90	1 or burst	2d6+4	20	magazine	00	21	$250	1918
: squad automatic weapon of the US military; also built by FN for Belgium, Chile, China, Japan, Poland, Sweden ...
Madsen LMG	7.92mm Mauser	80	burst	2d6+4	30	magazine	00	22	$200	1896
: adopted by Danish marines in 1897, and then in other calibers by other countries; loaded magazine is 2 lbs, and is top mounted

MG-34	7.92mm Mauser	80	burst	2d6+4	50	magazine	99	26	$128	1934
: adopted by the German military. Loaded drum magazines weigh 4.5 lbs each; can also use belted ammo (50 rd belt weighs 3.3 lbs)
Remington Model 8	35 Remington	90	2	2d6	5	internal	97	8	$65	1906
: recoil-operated, designed by John Browning, known from 1936 as the Woodsmaster; very easy and quick to take down into two parts
Vickers "K"	303 British	80	burst	2d6+4	100	magazine	99	27	$300	1935
: adopted by the RAF as observer's defensive gun. Loaded drum magazines weigh 7 lbs each; has a very high rate of fire.
Winchester Model 1907	351 Winchester	50	2	2d6	5	magazine	97	8	$70	1907
: popular with American police agencies; also sold to Latin American countries; 10 rd. magazines available $4 each

Anti-tank rifles

name	caliber	Range, yds	Shots	Damage	Capacity	Loading	Wt, lbs	Weight, lbs	Cost	Year
Gewehr M1918	13.2mm	200	1/2	2d10+1d8+6	1	single	00	38	?	1918
: an early German anti-tank rifle; includes sling and bipod; 1.68m long. Can penetrate 20mm of armor. Led to the US .50 cal ammo.
Shokolov Rifle	12.7x108mm	200	1/2	2d10+1d8+6	4	magazine	98	25	n/a	~1933
: this Soviet bolt-action rifle is produced in small numbers, and only issued to the NKVD. Can penetrate about 20mm of armor.
Solothurn S-18/100	20x105mm Solothurn	200	1/2	5d6	10	magazine	99	110	$375	1933
: a Swiss semi-automatic rifle; APHE shell penetrates 25mm armor, has 2 yd damage radius; loaded mags are 11 lbs; scope often fitted
Type 97	20x125mm	200	1/2	5d6	7	magazine	98	121	?	1934
: Japanese semi-automatic rifle. 30mm pen at 350 m with original AP ammo; HE round does 5d6 with 2 yard damage radius.										